Forecast for Monday 02 Nov 2020

Weather: Cloudy through the early hours and the morning, but brightening up through the afternoon with some sunny spells. Scattered showers, most frequent across western ranges, falling as snow above 900m. These heavy at times around midday and early afternoon with a slight chance of thunder. Dry by dusk, although a few light showers possible towards Ben Alder by midnight.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 40-50% in the morning, frequent patchy cloud above 600-800m, 70% from mid-afternoon and in the evening with any cloud mostly confined to the higher summits.

Visibility: Often poor or very poor in low cloud and wintery showers. Becoming very good for most through the afternoon, although low cloud still plaguing some of the higher summits, especially in the west.

Met Office Aberdeen Meteorologist's View
Lighter winds than of late, but feeling bitterly cold.

Forecast for Tuesday 03 Nov 2020
Weather: Largely dry across the Cairngorms with some sunny spells, a few well scattered showers across the western Cairngorms. Cloudier further west, especially in the morning when scattered showers are likely, with snow above 800m, but showers dying out through the afternoon. Lengthy clear spells after dark.

Maximum wind: West 20-25 mph, occasionally 30 mph in the afternoon.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 800m: 40% across western ranges, frequent cloud above 700m, particularly towards Creag Meagaidh and Ben Alder. 70-80% further east across the Cairngorms with cloud mostly above the summits.

Visibility: Mostly very good or excellent across the Cairngorms. Variable further east, often poor in low cloud.

Temperature: Glens: Plus 4 Celsius, rising to 7 Celsius.
At 800m: Zero Celsius rising to plus 2 Celsius.
Freezing level: 900-1000m.
